(解答例)

I would like to recommend that foreign tourists climb Mt. Fuji, because it is the highest mountain in Japan. You can enjoy wonderful views from the top. It would be a brilliant experience for them.

(別解例)

I would like to recommend that foreign tourists visit Asakusa, because it is a good place to experience some traditional aspects of Japan. You can visit Sensoji and eat traditional Japanese snacks in the shopping arcade.

(発展解答例)

I would like to recommend that foreign tourists visit Fushimi Inari Taisha. It is located in the south part of Kyoto and is easy to get to from Kyoto Station. The shrine was founded more than a thousand years ago. It is famous for its Senbon Torii, or thousands of torii gates. Tourists are sure to appreciate the mysterious, spiritual atmosphere of this shrine.

Place: Shirakami Sanchi

Our trip to Shirakami Sanchi was amazing. We arrived at Hirosaki Station in the morning and took a bus to the Shirakami Mountain Range, which is a World Heritage site. It was October, so the fall colors were very beautiful. I will never forget the experience of trekking in the mountains in the fresh air. It was a bit chilly, though. I should have taken some warmer clothes. After trekking, we took a hot spring bath and enjoyed the local cuisine. It was a really relaxing trip.

- Who did you go with?
- How many days did you spend there?
- How did you get there?
- How long did it take to get there?
- What else did you do [eat, see]?
- Do you want to go there again?
- What will you do if you go there again?

p.18

What do you think?

(解答例)

- I agree. If you travel by yourself, you can decide where you go, what you eat, and what you do on your trip. You have much more flexibility.
- I disagree because it's much safer to go on a guided tour than to travel by yourself. If you book a guided tour and something unexpected happens, such as flight cancellations or delays, the tour company will deal with it.

(別解例)

- I agree. Although it takes time to make my own reservations, I enjoy making such arrangements. I do my own research on the places I'm planning to visit, and this makes the trip more enjoyable.
- I disagree. Going on guided tours is more fun, because you can share the experience with other people. I enjoy talking with the other people in the group and making friends with them.
